Seminar

Chris Gochnour June 1st & 2nd at Rockler

Chris Gochnour for the past 25 years has built fine furniture for homes and Office buildings throughout the Intermountain West and taught woodworking to hobbyists and woodworking professionals. Chris is a regular contributor to Fine Woodworking magazine and has written more than thirty articles for Fine Woodworking. He teaches furniture making at Salt Lake Community College and the Marc Adams School of Woodworking. Along the way Chris has emerged as a preeminent hand tool expert with a passion for using planes, saws, chisels, spoke shaves, scrapers and anything else that aids in the art of fine woodworking. Chris has authored numerous hand tool reviews and been consulted by toolmakers from around the country.

Chris will be building a vintage tool chest using only hand tools and will be asking for participants from the audience to help with certain details. When the chest is complete Chris will be donating it to the guild which, will then raffle the chest off at a later date. The cost of the seminar is $125.00 for guild members. Please bring your check to the April meeting and sign up for this fantastic seminar.

More Membership Tidbits

Well, let's begin shall we, by recognizing the outstanding efforts of one Wilbur Goltermann. Many of you already know Wilbur and perhaps more of you recognize him as our Webmaster. He's the fellow that took our imploded website earlier in the year and brought it back to life changing many things along the way. We have updated content on all levels both on the front end and in the member's only section. If you haven't spent time looking around I think you will be pleasantly surprised. I would also encourage you to use the Guild Suggestion Box to offer up your ideas about what you might like to see. If you have some content that you think would benefit others, please share it with Wilbur to see if it can be included. We do have to follow the rules about copyrighting but if it can be included without a great deal of hassle, you will probably see it sooner rather than later.

I have another reason for discussing Wilbur's website exploits. I think most of us will agree that the membership application process, including actually paying your dues has been cumbersome. Some of that is the log jam that happens at the bottom of the stairs at the beginning of each year. Well, let the drum roll begin—the application now appears on our website, you can complete it in the comfort of your own home, pay online with PayPal and be done with it. You don't need a PayPal account to complete your application either. We've already had several folks who tested our new application process out for us as we looked for "bugs." We will look forward to using this as the year progresses and I do think you will agree that it will improve the process immensely. Let's offer a rousing round of applause for a great addition to our website and the membership application process.

Moving onto to one of our membership benefits, I have a total of 95 membership badges that have not yet been claimed. Some of them are for recent members and most are for those of you who have been members for quite a while. I encourage you to look for a badge with your name on it, even if you already have one. Several are duplicates and you are most welcome to take it and wear one on the front and one on the back. If there is a misspelling or you haven't been called by the name on your badge since you got in trouble as a kid, let us know so we can make it right. And to the new members, we make a nice looking wooden name badge for you —makes it less awkward than "hey whatsyourname" to get to know each other.

Have lots of things we are looking at as the year progresses, and once again invite your suggestions. Feel free to send me an email with your suggestions or questions. I am once again getting email and will do my best to get back to you.

CWG Sponsors

The Colorado Woodworkers Guild is fortunate to have several companies as Sponsors. The Sponsors help the Guild with programs, materials, supplies, facilities, display space, financial, and other means. In many cases, Guild members are able to obtain discounts from our Sponsors (except for power tools and sale items). Please note: the Guild discounts only apply to in person purchases in the store (except where noted), and are not available at any sponsor's online store. You must show a current membership card to obtain the discount
