

Coronavirus Newsletter #4

Here we are, ten weeks into our sheltering isolation, and the end is still not in sight. We comfort ourselves by spending mucho tiempo on the phone or video calling friends in an attempt to lend this time a bit more of a sense of normalcy.

We are also spending more time in our shop, and pursuing those projects which were, in normal times, pushed aside in favor of “more important” things. Many of you have been gracious enough to share some of those projects, and they appear in four special editions of The Guild’s newsletter (see them at <https://coloradowoodworkersguild.org/current-newsletter>).

Up to this point we have been able to post twenty-two of their projects in newsletter special editions. Some members have shared more than one project, and in one case many projects. Thank you all for your continued active involvement.

Now, however, the donations seem to tapering off, and I am hoping that the publication of this most recent Special Edition will reinvigorate your interest and involvement.

Nevertheless, we have six new submissions.

Repeat offender Ralph Kolva, has provided pictures of beautiful Greene and Greene hall table.

Bob Beason continues to outdo himself and provides pics of four projects: “A Little Lending Library”; a plant stand; a table lamp; and serving tray.

Dave Baker, shows his talents with built-in office furniture.

Finally, Richard Rosen gives us a lovely dining table.

More of the membership should share. Submit your projects to me at president@colowood.com.

Wilbur Goltermann
President

Coronavirus Newsletter #4

Ralph Kolva - Greene and Greene Hall Table

Coronavirus Newsletter #4

Richard Rosen` - Small Dining Table - Small Walnut dining table. Powder-coated steel legs from Rockler. First time use of OSMO POLYX. Good results easy to use and non toxic. That POLYX is a game changer.

Bob Beason - Little Lending Library and Plant Stand

Coronavirus Newsletter #4

Bob Beason - Table Lamp and Oak Tray

Coronavirus Newsletter #4

Dave Baker - Built-In Office Furniture

